

Jessica Dowling is a New York based singer and actor who grew up in Perkasie, Pennsylvania. Jess graduated from Marymount Manhattan College with a BA in Theatre Performance and a minor in Musical Theatre. After many years working by her mom's side at camps, Jessica has been a great addition to YPC, running a variety of workshops, teaching virtual private coachings, and directing summer camps. When not performing, Jessica loves spending her time working with and teaching the YPC kids. She hopes to pass on her love of theatre to them, along with the skill set they need to be successful performers or whatever else they may aspire to be!
